geann McGee and husband Michael Hillmer; Zachariah Nicholas Hay, son of classified supervisor Mary Hay and husband Steve; Amanda Christine Crowe, daughter of layout artist Kathy Crowe and husband Gary; Jaron Scott Mullis, son of Cahokia advertising manager Vanessa Mullis and husband Rick; and Michael David Myers, son of news editor Mike Myers and wife Shelly.

Fiery crash kills Granite man

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

PONTON BEACH — A 36-year-old Granite City man died when his van burst into flames after hitting a bridge abutment and plunging down an embankment early Friday morning.
Larry Joseph Marsala was pronounced dead at the scene by Madison County Deputy Coroner Roger Smith at 4:57 a.m. Friday.
Marsala was alone in the 1985 mini-van traveling west on State Aid 35 when the vehicle struck the abutment over the Cahokia Ditch about 50 feet east of Arlington Drive.
The impact caused the Astro van to continue traveling west about 430 feet until the vehicle went down an embankment on the north side of the highway, stopping underneath the embankment in an upright position where it burst into flames, Smith said.

The fiery crash occurred between the Interstate 255 interchange and Holiday Mobile Home Park, he said.
A passing motorist alerted Collinsville police to the accident at 4:18 a.m. and Ponton Beach authorities were notified, Smith said.

Simultaneously, the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department was dispatched, he said.
First to reach the scene was Collinsville Patrolman Dan Netemeyer who attempted to quench the flames, using a portable fire extinguisher.

The fire was too intense and his efforts were to no avail, Smith said; rescue of the victim was impossible.

The fire was eventually extinguished by Long Lake firefighters. Marsala's body sustained extensive burns and was removed from the van by firefighters.

The identity of the victim was verified through dental records, Chief Deputy Coroner Ralph Baalman said at 2 p.m. Friday.
Preliminary autopsy findings revealed acute carbon monoxide intoxication, Deputy Coroner Edward Werner said. An inquest is tentatively set for Jan. 17.
Funeral details are in today's obituary column.

Korean steel firm decides against city

By Andy Siering

GRANITE CITY — A South Korean metals corporation has decided not to build a plant in Granite City that would have meant up to 1,000 new jobs.
The Pan Metal Corp., which has its American headquarters in Vernon, Calif., instead picked a site in Cedar Rapids, Iowa.
But the president of the company, Chung Ryu, told the Regional Commerce and Growth Association that the company would likely expand in the future and would keep the bi-state St. Louis region in mind.

The company had looked at eight sites in the bi-state area — four of which were in or near Granite City.
In a letter to the RCGA's Nadine Roon, Ryu explained that none of the sites met all the criteria on which the company based its decision. It had been looking for an existing building of at least 300,000 square feet, with adjacent room to expand.

Law beefs up for New Year

By Andy Siering
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — New Year's Eve hasn't been quite as hazardous in recent years as it formerly was, according to law enforcement officials and the Madison County coroner's office.

Granite City Assistant Chief of Police Ron Selph said he thinks it's because of stricter enforcement of traffic laws, particularly drunken driving.
"The last few years have been pretty decent in terms of overall calls," Selph said. "There was a time we'd get as many as 76 calls on one shift."
Madison County Deputy Coroner Ralph Baalman Jr. said nobody died in a traffic accident last year on New Year's Eve.

But he said at least 60 percent of all traffic deaths in the county are alcohol or drug-related. Similar statistics are reported nationwide.

The Illinois Secretary of State's Office, which is responsible for suspending or revoking the licenses of drunk drivers, says the trend started five or six years ago. But that doesn't mean law enforcement agencies aren't gearing up for New Year's Eve.

All the police agencies plan to beef up patrols, spokesmen said. In Granite City, Selph said police would be alert to taverns serving drunken customers.

"At the first sign of any trouble, we're going to shut them down," Selph said.

The Illinois State Police say 22,000 people nationwide are killed every year in accidents involving drunken drivers, and another 320,000 are injured.

ISP Sgt. David Jung suggested that persons planning to consume alcohol should use a designated driver or travel by taxi.

William T. Atkins, director of the Illinois Department of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse, reminds people that while the legal limit for blood alcohol content is .10 percent, a level of .05 can cause slowed reflexes and decreased judgment.

In average persons, more than two drinks per hour will cause them to be legally intoxicated.

Health tops list of 1990 resolutions

Of the 91 percent of us who make New Year's resolutions, one-quarter say their resolution for 1990 will concern health.

That's the leading category, according to the latest Maritz AmeriPoll, followed by family life at 20 percent, career at 11 percent, finances at 9 percent and spiritual at 8 percent.

As further evidence that concern about health matters is uppermost in Americans' minds, 78 percent said they were concerned or very concerned about pesticide use, said Phil Wiseman, manager of marketing services for Fenton-based Maritz Marketing Research.

Sixty-three percent told pollsters the federal government is doing too little to ensure food safety. AmeriPoll is a random national phone survey.

Ice causes multiple accidents

GRANITE CITY — Multiple vehicle accidents Thursday morning on ice-glazed Illinois 3 injured several motorists, who went to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

None of the injured were seriously hurt, hospital authorities said.
Three of the accidents on Illinois 3, involving about 10 vehicles, occurred between 7:40 and 7:58. Two were handled by Granite City officers.

Details of the third traffic mishap, investigated by an Illinois State Police trooper, were not available Friday.

ISP authorities said only accidents involving a fatality or persons seriously injured are immediately reported to headquarters.

Three persons were taken by city ambulance to the local medical center following a spectacular six-vehicle crash on Illinois 3 about a quarter-mile south of Niedringhaus Avenue at 7:40 a.m. Thursday.

Due to another accident taking place about 300 yards farther south, traffic was slowing down or stopped and the road surface was just right for ice to form, a Granite City officer said.

The slick road conditions caused numerous drivers to lose control of their vehicles and skid on the highway, he said.

Kevin Alvin Campbell, 24, of the 2100 block of Nevada Avenue was among those who had stopped his car. It was then struck by an auto driven by Norma F. Fisher, 56, of the 4100 block of Melrose Avenue.

At the same location, a pickup truck operated

LaRouche candidates challenged

SPRINGFIELD — Backers of Neil F. Hartigan's campaign for governor have filed a legal challenge to keep followers of imprisoned political activist Lyndon LaRouche off the Democrats' March 20 primary ballot.

They were joined by the Democratic party and its other endorsed candidates.
A schedule of hearings to decide if the LaRouche candidates will be on the ballot will be hammered out Tuesday in a telephone conference, according to State Board of Elections Executive Director Ron Michaelson. He said the board would make a final decision on all candidate challenges no later than Jan. 17.

Hartigan, currently the attorney general of Illinois, announced the move in a statement accusing the statewide LaRouche candidates of filing nomi-

Twelfth day of Christmas event

ELLIS GROVE, ILL. — On the twelfth day of Christmas my true love gave to me: An afternoon of old French revelry.

The traditional and of the French holiday season will be celebrated with music and dancing at the annual Twelfth Day of Christmas festivities at the Pierre Menard Home State Historic Site, Ellis Grove, from 1 to 4 p.m. Jan. 7.

The Twelfth Day of Christmas has been celebrated in southern Illinois since the French first settled the area around 1700.

It is perhaps the oldest surviving Christmas holiday observance in the state and has been celebrated by the French for 800 years. The event is free and open to the public.

Revelers at the Menard Home will ring out the holiday season in period costumes as they sing, dance and offer visitors traditional delicacies such as French pastries and hot mulled cider.

The La Guianne Singers, made up of area residents, some of whom are descendants of original French settlers, will provide the musical entertainment.

Dancers in colorful period costumes from the early 1700s will perform lively French dances such as the minuet and quadrille.

The Pierre Menard Home is located six miles north of Chester, Ill.

Tax number needed by April 15

The 1989 Illinois 1040 Income Tax Form will again ask taxpayers to provide their school district code.

However, due to continued budgetary constraints at the State Department of Revenue, the instruction booklet will not contain the code listing, therefore the Regional Superintendent of Schools of Madison County is providing this information.

Listed below are the local school districts four-digit code number to be used on the 1989 Illinois income tax return: Granite City Unit District 9, 0820; Madison Unit District 12, 0823; and Venice Unit District 3, 0826.

Surdex Corp. hired to map landfills

EDWARDSVILLE — The Madison County Board on Dec. 20 approved contracts totaling $7,900 with an aerial photographic and topographical mapping company to have the county's two largest landfills surveyed.

Under the contracts, Surdex Corp. of St. Louis will produce topographical maps that will help county officials determine if operators at the Laidlaw/Barton landfill north of Edwardsville and the Waste Management landfill on Chouteau Island are in compliance with height limitations outlined in their permits.

Bob Stille, D-Edwardsville, a member of the county's Environmental Committee, said following the meeting that he has been seeking a determination on the height of the landfills for the last eight months.

Stille said members of the Environmental Committee had initially asked the county Highway Department to survey the landfills but that department's surveyors have been "tied up with their own projects."

Stille said he was unaware what the height limitation on the permits is for the two landfills. But, he said, the aerial survey firm can guarantee accuracy on the height "to within one inch, one way or the other."

Stille also pointed out that St. Clair County officials recently filed criminal charges and a civil lawsuit against Laidlaw alleging that its landfill outside Belleville is 15 feet higher than allowed by its permit.

In other action at the meeting the board agreed to extend the 1989 Board of Review session until Jan. 19 to allow the board to finish an unusually large load of real estate assessment hearings.

County Clerk Evelyn Bowles said the case-load for the board has been heavier than normal this year because of quadrennial reassessments in several townships.

Those reassessments have spurred a significantly high number of complaints and appeals, Bowles said.

The dog pound seizure issue was not discussed, although about 10 members of the Madison County Humane Society and animals' rights supporters were at the meeting.

The Animal Control Committee had voted to ask the full board to place the issue of proposed dog sales to researchers on the ballot in March as an advisory referendum.

Church story corrections

An article in last Sunday's Sunday Home Journal about ethnic Christmas traditions contained several errors about the church body to which St. Mary's Greek Catholic Church belongs.

The article said the church is sometimes called "the Uniate church." This is not true, says St. Mary's priest, the Rev. Robert Bohdan Piorkowski. In fact, "uniates," he explained, is a term of extreme derision used by other religious groups with whom the Greek Catholic Church has differences.

The article mistakenly said that members of the church observe a meatless and dairyless fast from Dec. 15 until Christmas. The fasting period begins Nov. 15.

The article said "leftovers" from the previous night's meal are served to carolers on Christmas Day. Actually, extra food of the type served at the evening meal is prepared in advance, and this is what is served to carolers.

The Sunday Home Journal and the reporter who wrote the story regret the errors.

SHOPPING SPREE WINNER PICKED: Jerry Roderick, left, owner of Jerry's Cafeteria in downtown Granite City, is presented with a check for a $250 shopping spree, the prize in an event sponsored by the Organization for the Advancement of the Handicapped (OATH) located at Seventh and State streets in Madison. Making the presentation are Larry Kynion, a client of OATH, who was top salesman for the event; Sharon Varady, executive director of OATH; and Glenda Flowers, a developmental trainer at OATH.

Ballot

nating petitions Dec. 18 that were in "flagrant, widespread and near-total disregard of the election code."

"This anti-semitic, racist hate group does not belong on the ballot," Hartigan said.

The Madison County Democratic Party organization is backing Hartigan and the state party organization in their efforts to oust the LaRouche candidates from the primary ballot, county chairman Bill Harrison said.

"As far as we're concerned we don't want to have another '86," Harrison said, referring to the last statewide primary election in which LaRouche candidates defeated two party-backed candidates.

"It didn't tarnish the party's reputation," Harrison said. "It just created worse confusion for regular party members and the voting public."

The LaRouche slate is made up of Mark Fairchild for governor, Sheila Jones for lieutenant governor, Janice Hart for secretary of state, Patricia Noble-Schenk for comptroller and Ronnie Fredman for treasurer.

At a news conference in Chicago last week, Fairchild denounced Hartigan's charges. "I was absolutely outraged that (Hartigan) would have the nerve to say that we are racist and anti-semitic," said Fairchild, noting Jones is black and Hart is Jewish.

He also called the accusation that LaRouche supporters fraudulently gathered signatures "wildly and outrageously fraudulent statements in politics."

The LaRouche followers said their petitions would withstand any investigation.

"We're saying they don't have the 5,000 eligible voter signatures to get on the ballot," Hartigan campaign manager Bill Filan said. "There were 10,010 signatures. We're saying 6,088 are invalid and 3,922 are valid."

Filan said that of the nearly 4,000 signatures from qualified voters, many appeared to have traffic but slid on the icy pavement into the left lane. A collision resulted with a Dodge van operated by Claude M. Bennett, 45, of St. Louis.

Bennett said he was traveling south in the inside lane when his van was struck in the right front by the other vehicle. The impact caused Bennett's van to hit the median.

Both vans appeared to have booked together, striking each other numerous times until Bennett's van made a 180-degree turn and ended up facing north, police said.

Sustaining injuries were Bennett and three passengers in his van, David E. Sandage, 54, of Decatur, Leslie R. Cottrell, 49, of

It found such a facility in Cedar Rapids, in an empty building formerly a Caterpillar tractor plant, Boon said.

The Granite City sites under consideration were tracts of land at the Tri-City Regional Port District, Illinois Power Co. property on Illinois Route 3 near Heidtman Steel, Union Electric Co. property north of I-270 off Route 3 and a vacant building in Granite City.

Three of the other sites were in south St. Louis and St. Louis County along the Mississippi River, and one was just north of downtown St. Louis, Boon said.

Boon praised the efforts of economic development officials in Illinois and Missouri in attempting to persuade the company to locate in this region.

Lady Warriors rally to take tripe place title

Section B
SUNDAY, DEC. 31, 1989
GRANITE CITY HOME JOURNAL

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

MASCOUTAH — Normally mild-mannered Allen Lobdell turned into a tiger at halftime Friday night. The Lady Warriors followed suit in the second half. Granite City executed a 180-degree turnaround and rolled to a 61-50 win over Mascoutah to capture third place in the Mascoutah Holiday Tournament. The Lady Warriors (10-2) thus recovered from a 58-42 loss to eventual champion Belleville West in Friday afternoon's semifinals.

That loss seemed to drag the Lady Warriors down in the first half against the Indians (7-4). Dana Wetzel had 17 of her 22 points in the first half as

Mascoutah Tournament

Mascoutah shot well from the outside and led 35-25.

But Lobdell, who's extremely low-key on the bench, turned some heads in the locker room at halftime.

"I bawled them out," he said. "You never know what to say, but sometimes you have to shock them. I told them they were playing like losers. You saw them in the second half."

Granite City outscored Mascoutah 36-15 in the final 16 minutes as the Indians made only 5 of 32 shots from the floor after intermission. Priscilla Meyenburg was — as usual — a demon in sneakers, going for rebounds and loose balls while scoring 16 points. Jennifer Cavness again led the way with 23 points and made several nice passes to Karen Sykes, who scored 10.

"Even Priscilla had a bad first half," said Lobdell. "And Mascoutah shot the ball well. They had to cool off some in the second half. We were just glad all those shots were two-pointers. If they move out a foot and a half on a lot of them, we could have been way behind."

"He never yelled at us like that before," Cavness said of the halftime diatribe. "Some of the players got mad at him because he cut us down a little, but it worked. We just hustled more and played as a team in the second half."

Granite City came out flying in the third quarter and finally tied it at 39-39 on Cavness' rebound of Addie Lenzi's miss. The Indians tied it at 43-43 on Wetzel's shot to start the fourth quarter, but Michelle Bequette put the Lady Warriors ahead for good. It was 47-45 before Cavness scored twice, Kim Pawlak once and Meyenburg again to make it a 10-point game. Wetzel hit a three-pointer with 1:30 left to make it 57-50, but Granite City wasn't to be denied.

"We want to build some character in this team," said Lobdell. "This is the only time we lost this afternoon and then we behind by 10 at halftime."

"I think we could have beaten Belleville West," said Cavness. "We had our heads down on the way home from that game. We just got tired at the end of the game."

The Maroons, who got a basket at the buzzer by Jenny Bourn for a 51-49 win over Marion in the title game, gradually opened up their lead over the Lady Warriors throughout the game.

"We took away their inside game, which was one of our main goals," said Lobdell. "But they were able to take what we gave them and a little more. Their guards got shots from a little closer than we would have liked. And we were only scoring

10 points a quarter, which isn't us." Cavness, Pawlak and Meyenburg combined for 40 of the 42 points against West, while Jenny Bourn and Erin White had 15 each for the Maroons.

"I would have been happy with third place when the tournament started, but I wouldn't have believed it," said Cavness. "We were just happy to win the first game. We had never won before. This should help us the rest of the year."

Cavness had 19 points as the Lady Warriors broke open a close game at halftime for a 65-44 win over Collinsville in Thursday's second-round game. More on the tournament will appear in Wednesday's Journal.

Young grapplers happy with 6th place

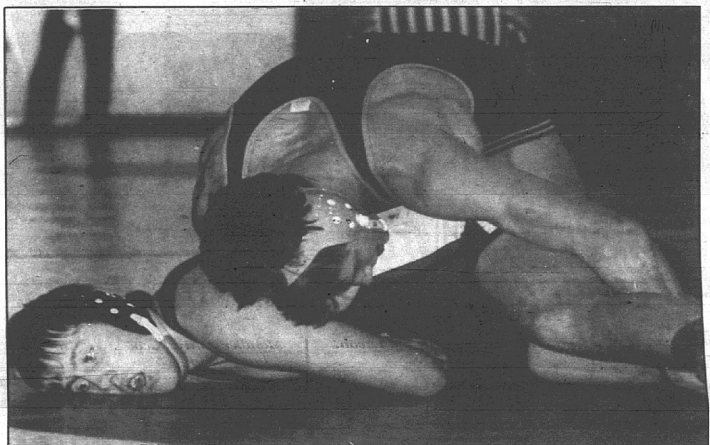

By Mike Kelly
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A huge steppingstone for the near future.

That was how Mike Garland viewed the Warriors' sixth-place finish in the 29th Annual Granite City Holiday Wrestling Tournament on Thursday.

Granite City accomplished the feat without two of its best wrestlers in the lineup. But with eight sophomores in the tournament, the Warriors came away with six medalists in the championship round. Sophomore Ryan King (103 pounds) took third, senior Todd Hutchison (125) took fourth, sophomore Chris Hoffstot (130) took fifth, sophomore Jerry Heubuschman (135) took third, senior Larry Hahne (189) took second while sophomore Al Willardet (275) took sixth.

It was an impressive showing for Granite City, but McCluer North, which won the tournament with 215 points, and Belleville East proved to be a little too much for the youthful Warriors. Granite City still got 129 points and finished in front of Cahokia, which won the tournament title the last two years.

"I'm real proud of our kids," said Granite City coach Mike Garland. "They came in here against super champions. They held their own pretty well. We could have made excuses for not having (Chris) Hankins and (Doug) Norton in the lineup. But I told the kids that we could perform well even without those guys. It was up to them. We worked all summer to reach this point and our moment of truth was fulfilled."

Hankins missed the tournament with a sore back, while Norton was kept out of the tournament due to disciplinary reasons concerning his tactics. But Hoffstot picked up the slack for Hankins with his fifth-place showing.

"Our kids are really second semester sophomores," said Garland. "They wrestled between 15 to 30 matches during the off-season, which seasoned them for the regular season. And you need to do that because the competition is to fierce in this area. You can't stay on top for ever because new coaches bring a lot of enthusiasm with them to resurrect their programs. And if you can't meet their challenge, then you're in trouble."

"The tournament at Springfield (Dec. 16) really prepared us for this field. We went up against the defending state champions and our kids got a good indication of just where they stood against the top competition in the state. And our performance here can now be used as a building block for the upcoming weeks."

"If we can improve every week, then we'll be ready come regional time in February. And this tournament is similar to a tournament because your kids have to stay sharp for the two-day session."

Garland was pleased with all of his wrestlers, but he had quite a bit of praise for Willardet. He came into the tournament with a 1-10 record, but reached the championship round before he was pinned at 4-43 by Eric Schuster of Belleville East in the third place bracket and ended up sixth. Schuster was named the outstanding wrestler in the tournament after collecting five pins.

"Al is a solid example of our youth," said Garland. "He's only a sophomore and he only weighs 205 pounds. For a youngster, especially in the weight class he's in, Al is usually outweighed by his opponents. But he gave it his best shot and took us as far as he could. His performance really helped our team score."

"It was a good showing, and like it was 19 years ago when I wrestled here, this tournament is a good measuring stick for the post-season tournament. If you did well here, then your chances of reaching state were pretty good. We put on a strong showing, which should allow us to make some noise come regional time in February."

King lost 16-14 to McCluer North's Jason Hovis before beating Danny Tarr of Carbondale for third place. Hutchison dropped a 14-8 decision to McCluer North's John Easley in the championship bracket before losing 4-3 to Hazelwood Central's Joe Taylor for third place. Hoffstot beat C.J. Hussman of Belleville East for fifth. Heubuschman beat Civic Memorial's Paul Knoche for third after losing 9-2 to eventual champion Al Smith of Hazelwood Central. Hahne had two pins before losing a 13-2 decision to Jason Myers of Belleville East in the title bout.

A full summary of results for the Warriors will appear in Wednesday's Journal.
